5 ways to deal with FRUSTRATIONS as a PARENT

by Big Life Journal

1 ACCEPT YOUR CHILD AS THEY ARE

- See and know them for who they are rather than who we expect them to be.
- Tell them from the start that you will love them...and repeat it all the time.
- Be awake to who they are; feeling seen is an essential part of feeling loved.
- A great way to connect with your child is via their love language, you can make them feel seen and appreciated.

2 ALLOW YOUR EMOTIONS

- All feelings are okay!
  - When a strong feeling arises, observe it. Pause and take a breath.
  - When frustration arises, use the helpful practice S.T.O.P.
- S- Stop what you are doing
T- Take a few deep breaths
O- Observe your thoughts and feelings as they are
P- Proceed with whatever you were doing before

3 KNOW THE "90-SECOND RULE"

- When we resist a feeling, we inadvertently remain stuck in the same feeling.
- When we accept the feeling, it's gone in under 2 minutes!
- In the critical 90 seconds of an emotion, be sure to communicate your strong feelings to your child and how you plan to cope with them. "Mommy is feeling very tired and grumpy right now."

4 PARENT FROM A PLACE OF GRATITUDE

- Practicing gratitude improves mental and physical health, increases empathy, and improves sleep. It even changes the brain!
- Each time you're about to say, "I have to" to, replace it with "I get to."
- "I have to take my daughter to ballet" versus "I get to take my daughter to ballet".
- "I have to put him to bed" versus "I get to put him to bed."

5 APPLY GROWTH MINDSET TO YOUR PARENTING

- No one is born knowing how to parent. When frustration overtakes you, use it as an opportunity to grow from the experience, and decide what you'd do differently next time.
- When it all seems too difficult, remember the feeling of things being hard is the feeling of your brain growing.
